60-2285

60¢

UFO—HO HO!

CARTOONS FOR FLYING SAUCER LOVERS

By Joseph Farris

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2022 with funding from Kahle/Austin Foundation

https://archive.org/details/ufohoho0000unse

TAKE ME TO YOUR READER

Some UFOs may want to be hostile, frightening or mysterious. The UFOs in this book are different: they want to be loved—and laughed with. Here are over 100 of the wildest, weirdest flying objects ever unidentified, to delight both the devoté and the skeptic. So, come on up....

UFO—HO HO!

By Joseph Farris

Cartoons for Flying Saucer Lovers

POPULAR LIBRARY ● NEW YORK

All POPULAR LIBRARY books are carefully selected by the POPULAR LIBRARY Editorial Board and represent titles by the world's greatest authors.

POPULAR LIBRARY EDITION

Copyright © 1968 by Joseph G. Farris

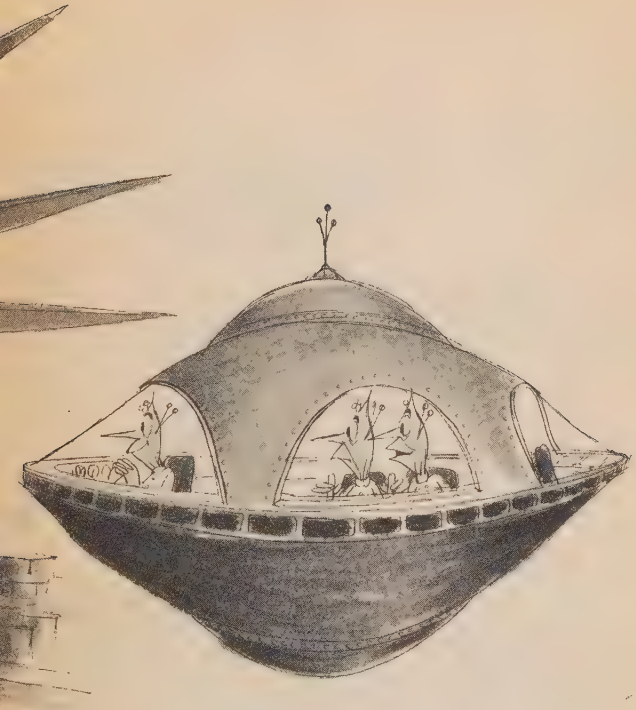
PRINTED IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

All Rights Reserved

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the following publications for permission to reprint material which originally appeared in their pages: Air Force — Space Digest, American Management Association, Cavalier, Chicago Tribune, Chicago Tribune Magazine, Christian Science Monitor, Crestwood Publishing Co., Inc., Ethyl News, For Men Only, Look, Medical Economics, Medical Tribune, The New Yorker, Oldsmobile Rocket Circle Magazine, Punch, Saturday Review, Science World, Weekend Magazine, World Week.

Reprinted from Ethyl News,
Published by Ethyl Corporation, New York.

© 1967 The New Yorker Magazine, Inc.



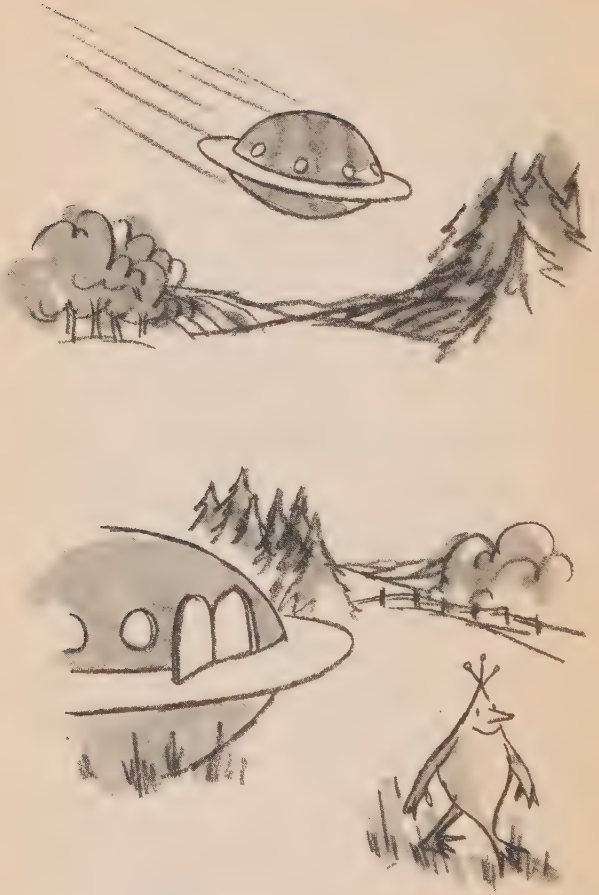
"He's fallen in love with her."

UFO
FARRIS

"A peace feeler from whom?"

"You heard correctly—I'm not coming back!"

Reprinted by courtesy of Medical Tribune



FARRIS

"Who's in charge of UFO sightings?"

Reprinted by permission from Science World,
© 1967 by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

"Perhaps I'm lacking in imagination, but I just don't believe in flying saucers."

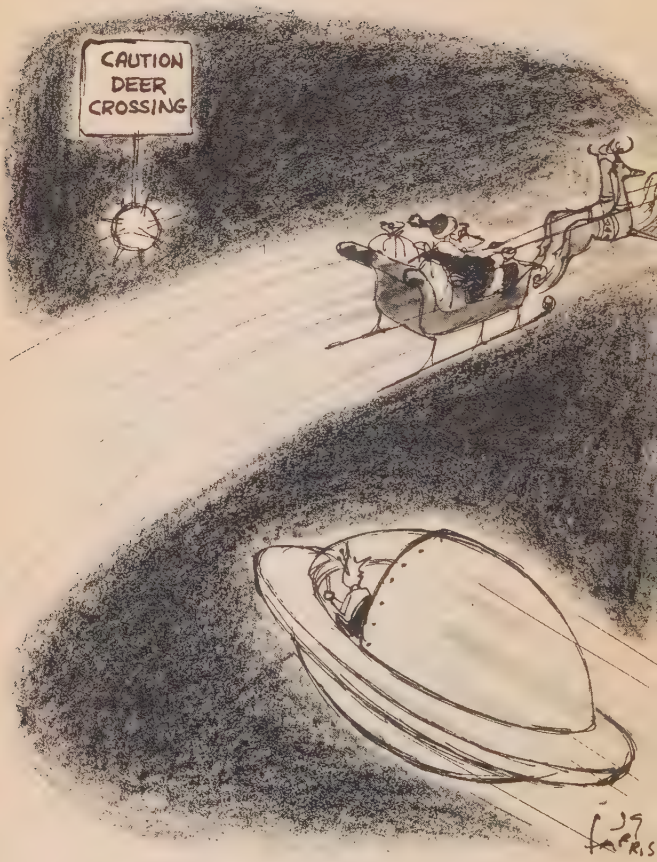
"Earth's surface temperature is under 100 degrees. In that frigid climate, there couldn't possibly be life as we Venusians know it."

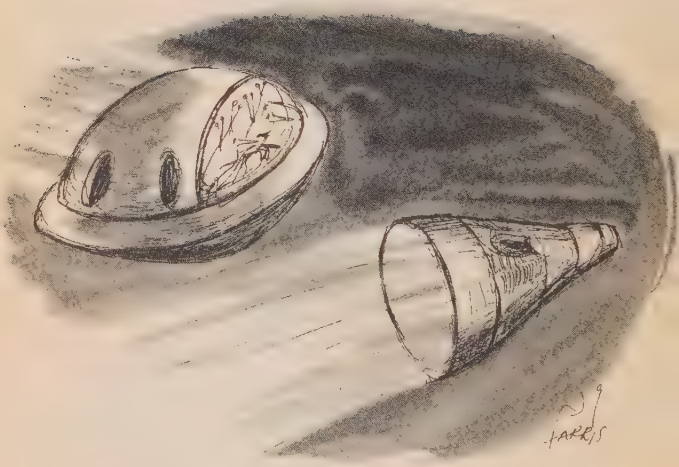
Reprinted by permission from Science World,
© 1963 by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

RTH
G HARRIS



Reprinted from Ethyl News,
Published by Ethyl Corporation, New York.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
FARRIS



"Look—a UFO!"

"So you made a new friend—good for you."

"Can you direct me to the hippie scene in San Francisco?"

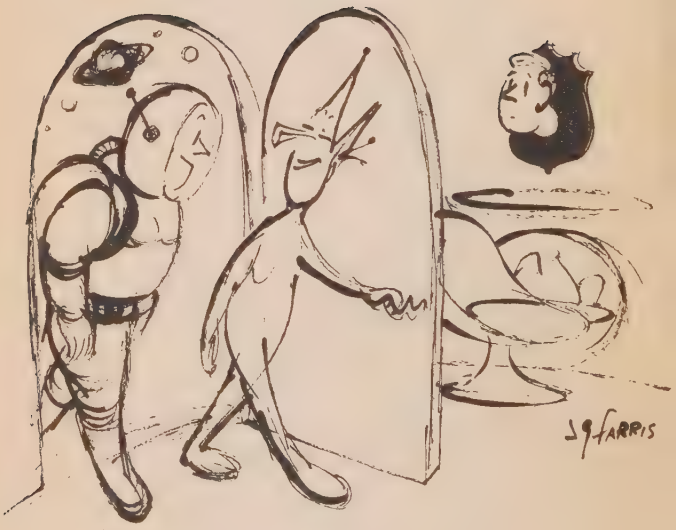
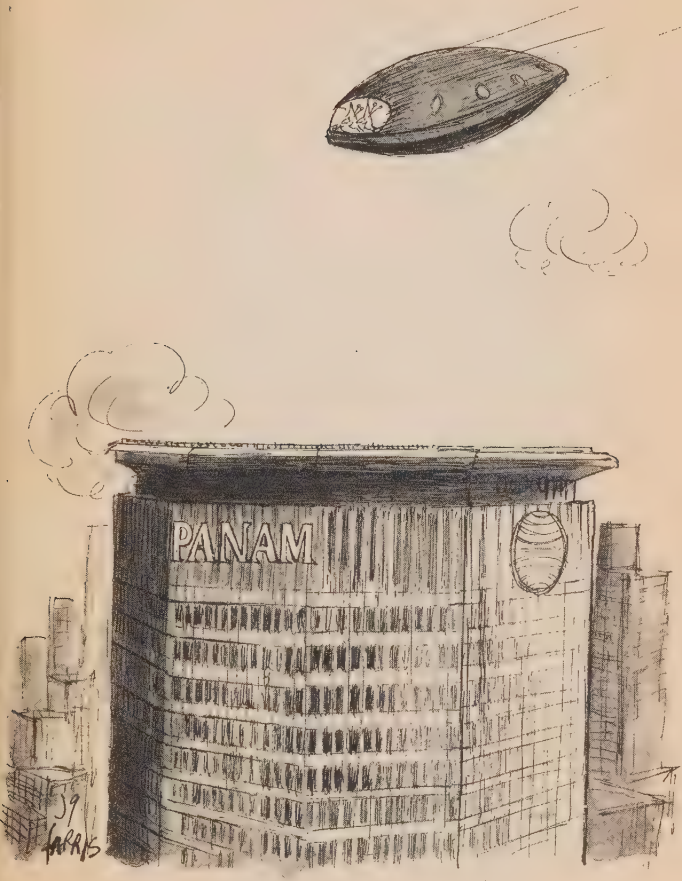
ARRIS



"By the way—you're not the first earthling to land on our planet."

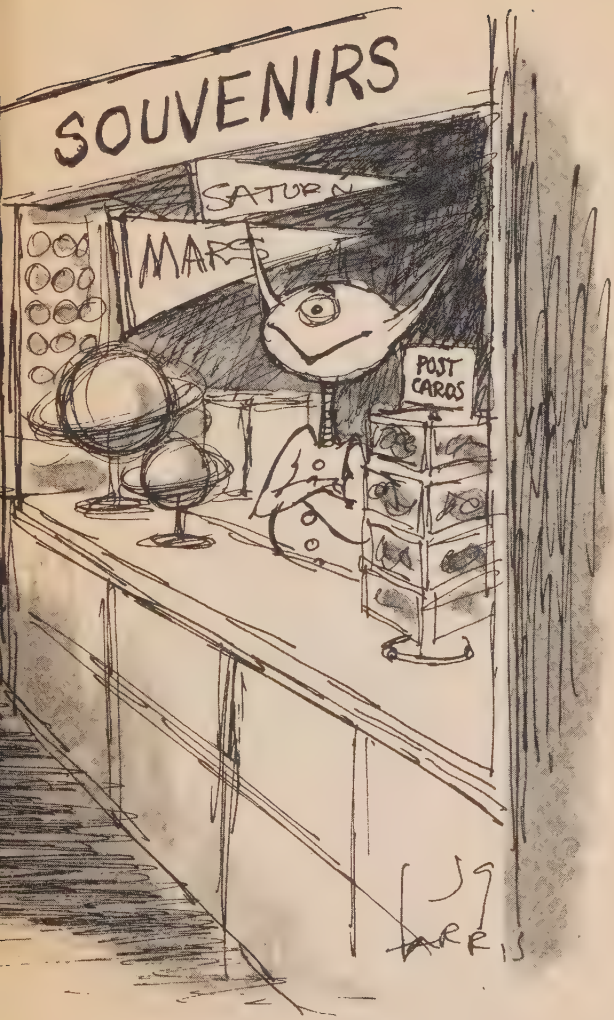
Reprinted by permission from World Week,
© by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

"This looks like a good spot to land."



Chicago Tribune

Reprinted by permission from Science World,
© 1962 by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.



SOUVENIRS
SATURN
MARS
POST CARDS

"There's an indescribable something that I like about earthlings."

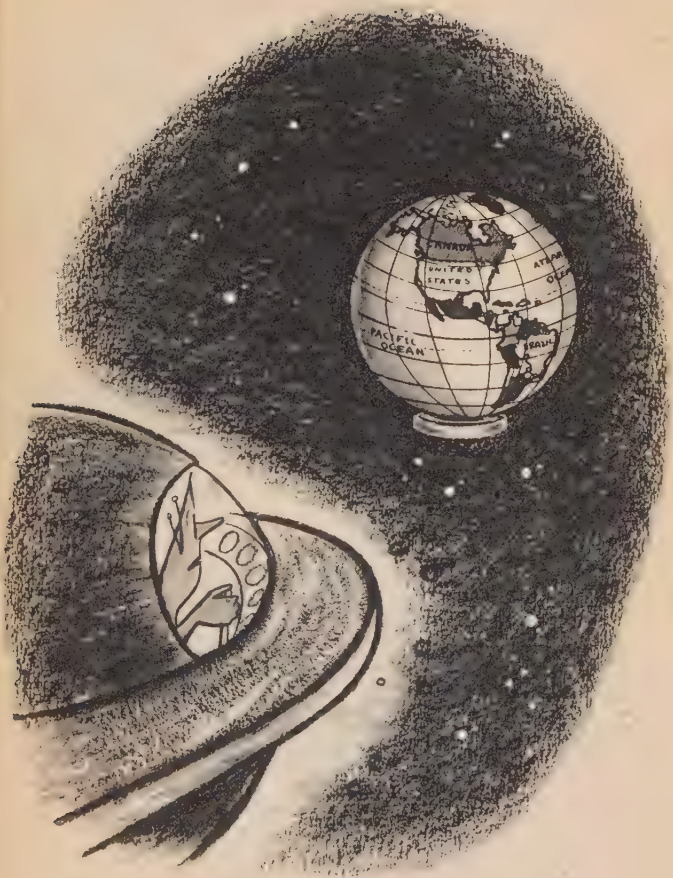
The Christian Science Monitor, © TCSPS

"Frustrating, isn't it?"



Reprinted from Ethyl News,
Published by Ethyl Corporation, New York.

"And this is the Capitol where their Congress meets, makes laws, appropriates money . . ."

Reprinted by courtesy of Medical Tribune

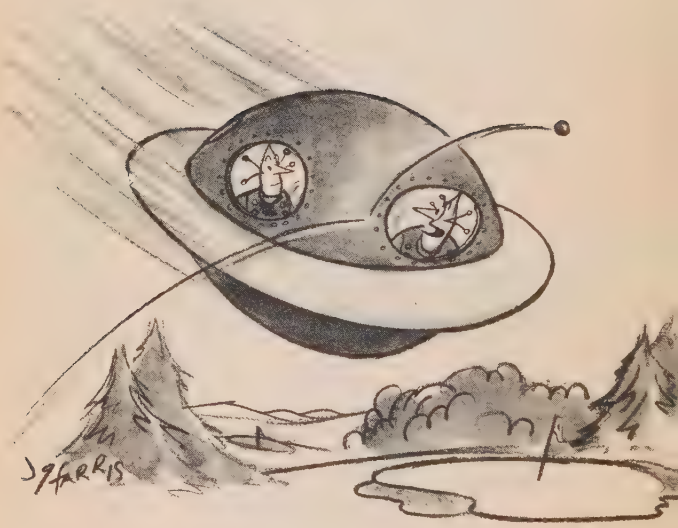
"If there is life as we know it on other planets I'm not interested."

A
C
C
B
JG
FARRIS

"Don't move Ooga, it looks carnivorous!"

"We can't go home without a Florida tan, you know that."

"I guess earthlings aren't the only ones who protest."



"They're shooting at us!"

"We've come to settle. We were driven out of our planet by a population explosion."

Reprinted by courtesy of Medical Tribune

PER

"You advertise as an equal opportunity employer."

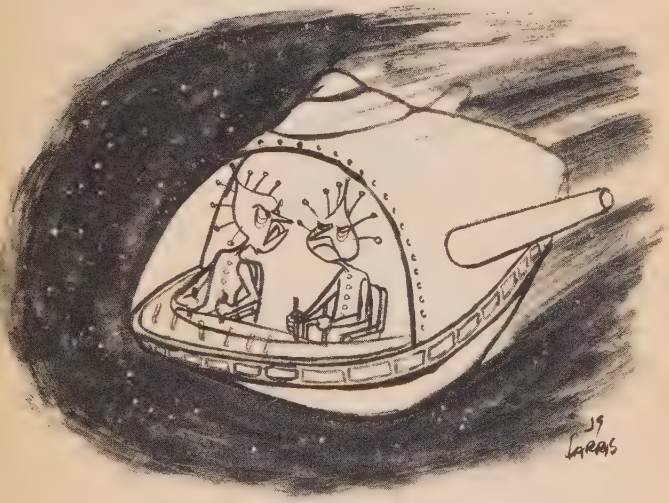
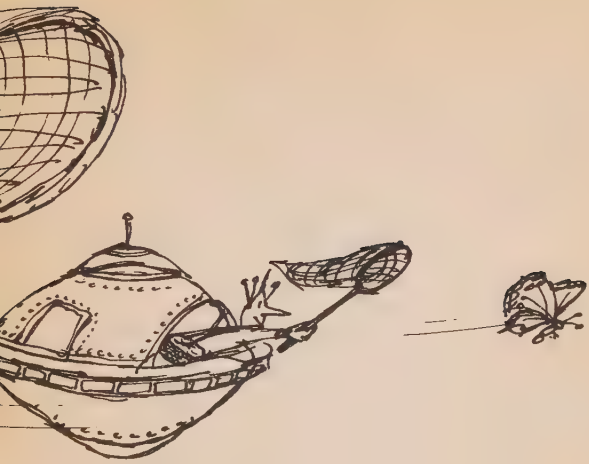
"If you're looking for truth, I suggest you go to some other planet."

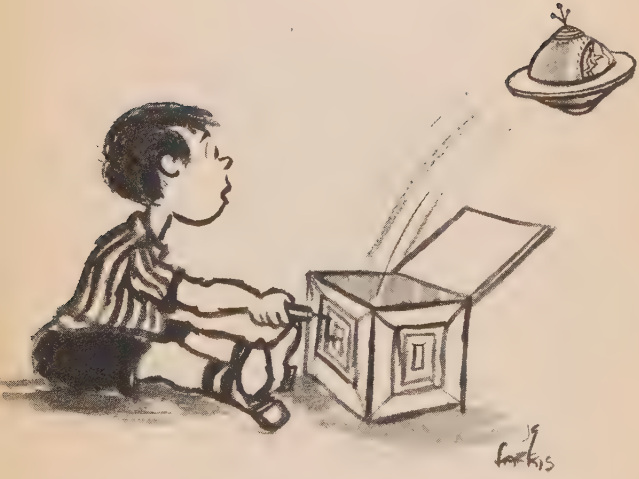
"Look, buster, the universe isn't big enough for both of us."



TAPRIS



"Since I don't believe there's life on any other planet, I don't believe in flying saucers."



"Friend, would you like to make a lot of money playing basketball?"

"Enough of earth. Let's head back to civilization."

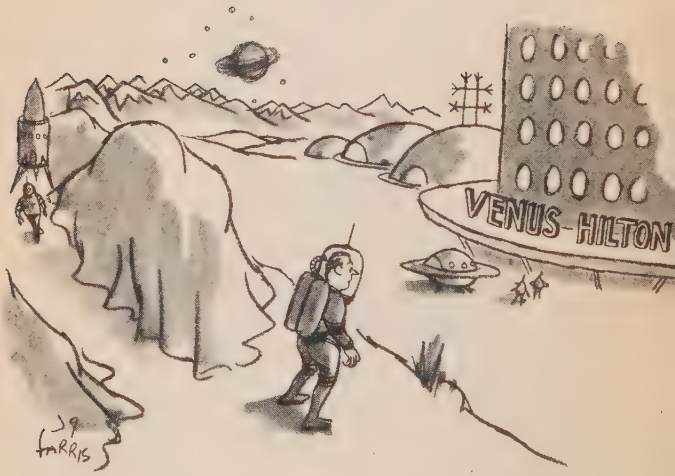
Weekend Magazine

JIM HARRIS

"He wants to know when Twiggy is coming."

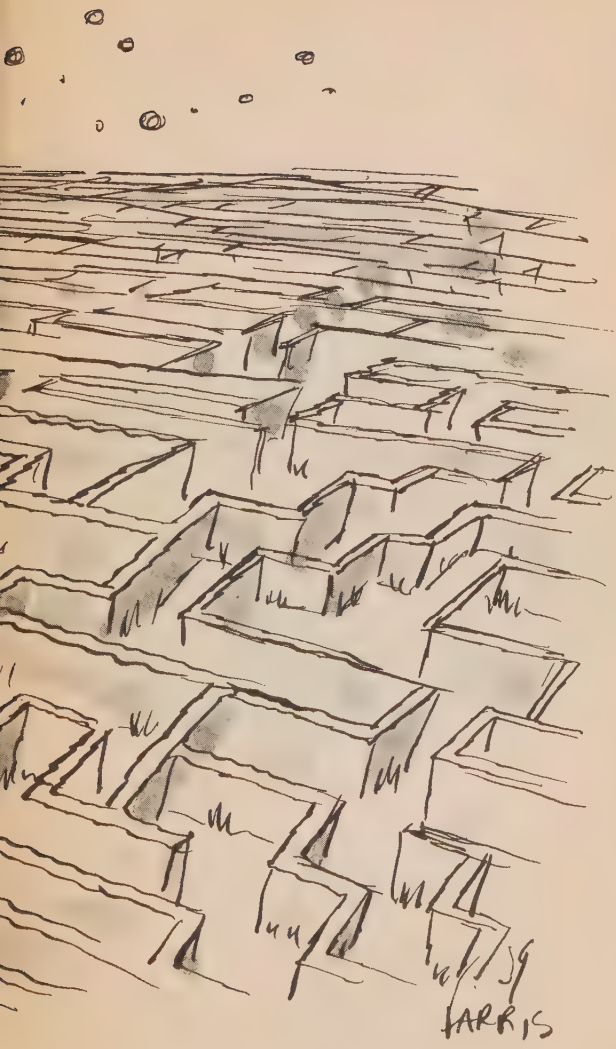
Crestwood Publishing Co., Inc.

"Our mission was a failure. Apparently the earthlings don't have a cure for the common cold either."

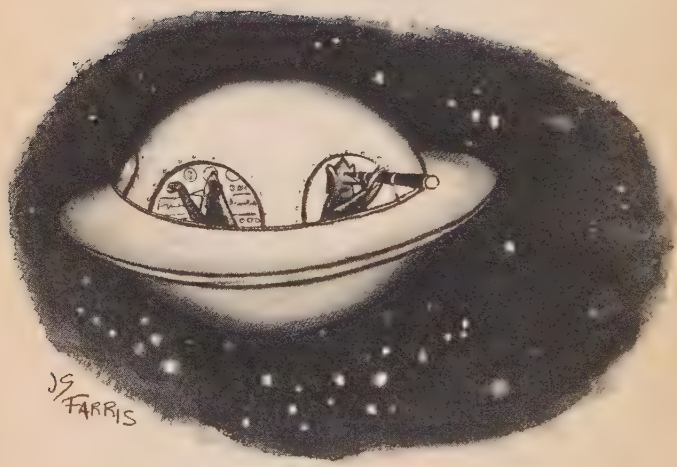


Copyright © 1960 Saturday Review

"Well, there's life on earth, but not as we know it."

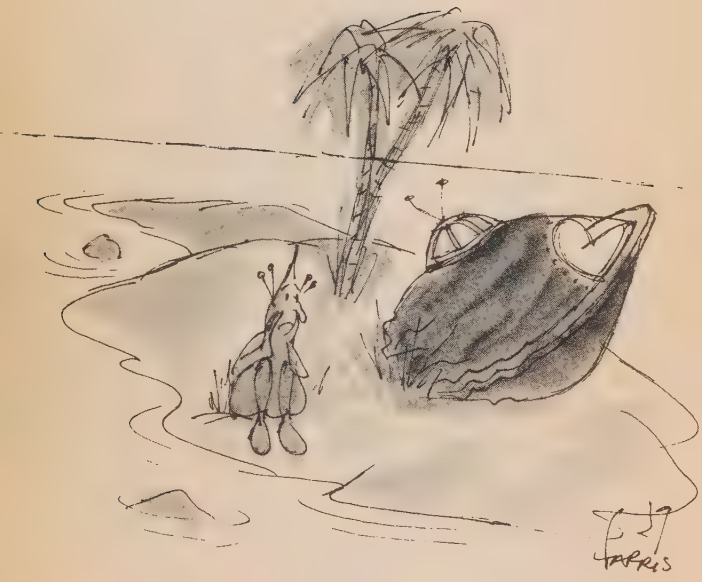


HARRIS



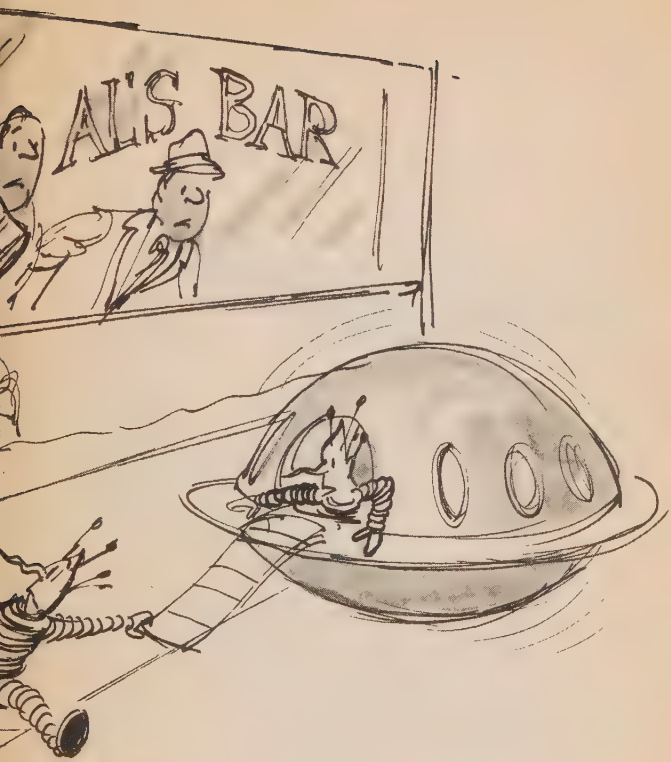
"It's a bird—it's a plane—it's . . ."

Copyright © 1958 Saturday Review



HARRIS

"Get out of here! Are you trying to ruin my business?"



AL'S BAR

UNITED STATES

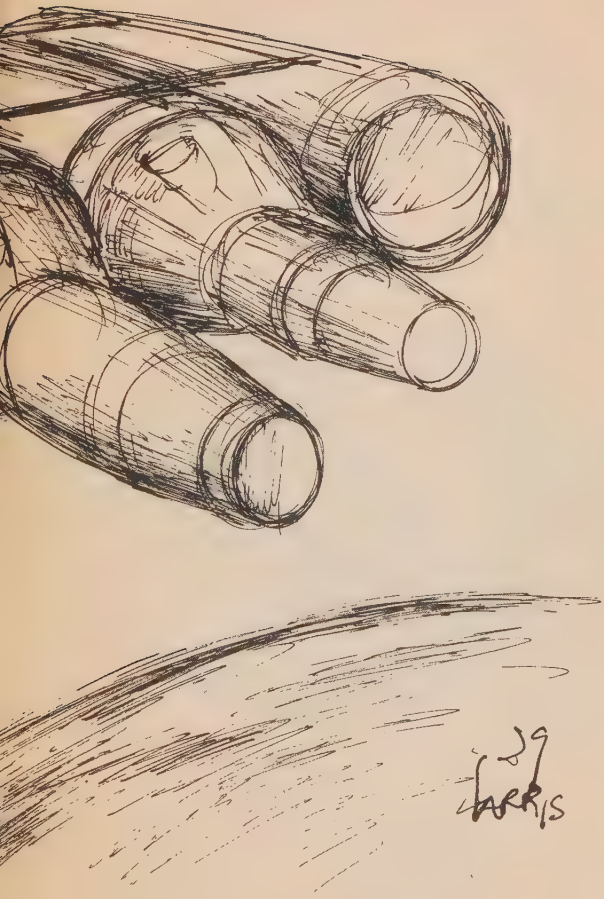
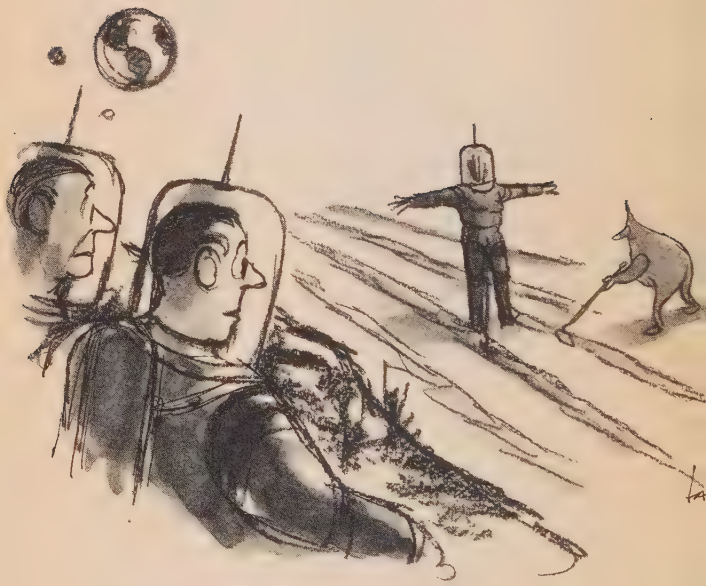
"Gentlemen—we're opening up a new territory."

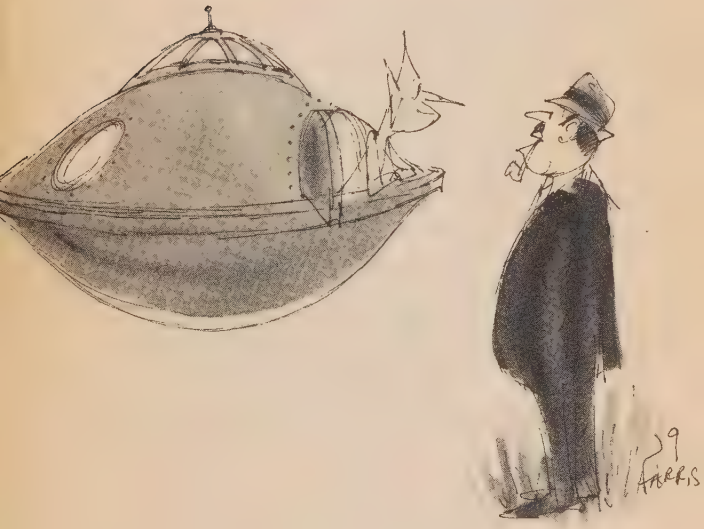
MANNED SPACE
LABORATORY
WELCOME
WAGON

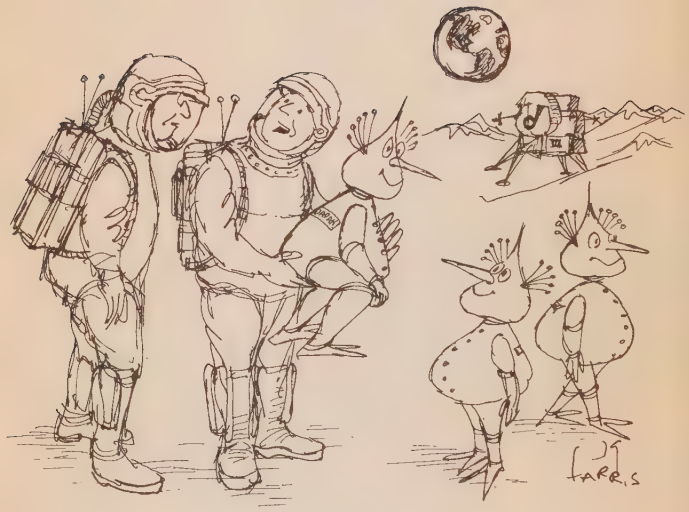




Reprinted by permission from Science World,
© 1962 by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

"Sorry, but I don't know what the real RFK is like either."





"It says 'made in Japan.' "

"Now we'll see who has the best team in baseball."

"By golly they're right—there are canals!"

LAST CHANCE FOR GALACTIC FUEL
FOR 35,000,000 MILES
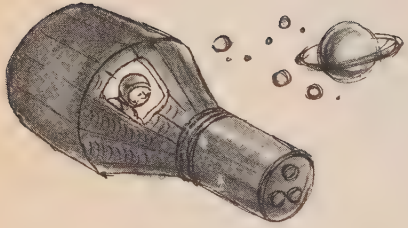
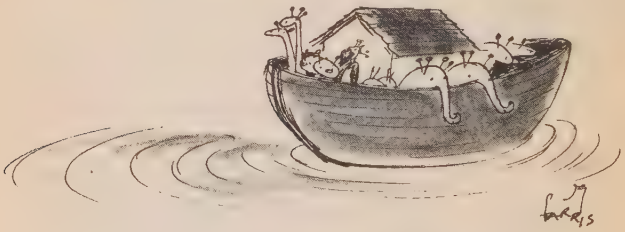
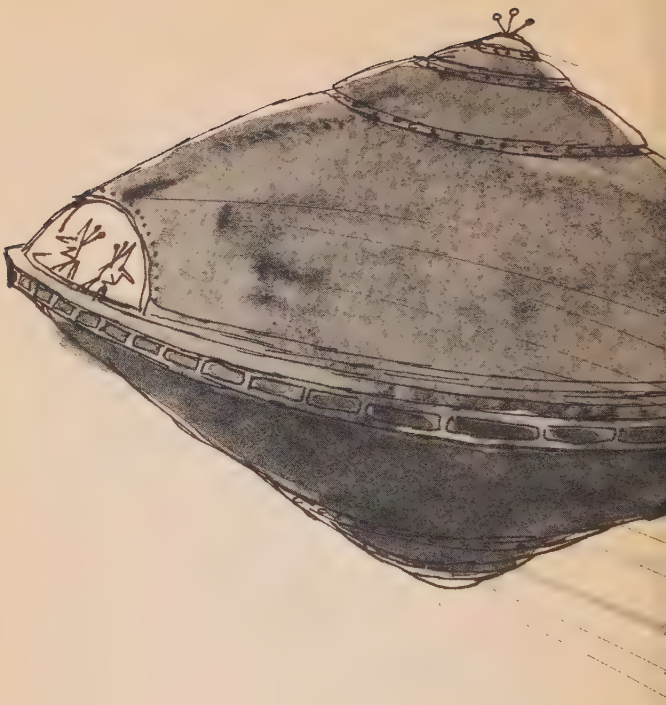
HARRIS



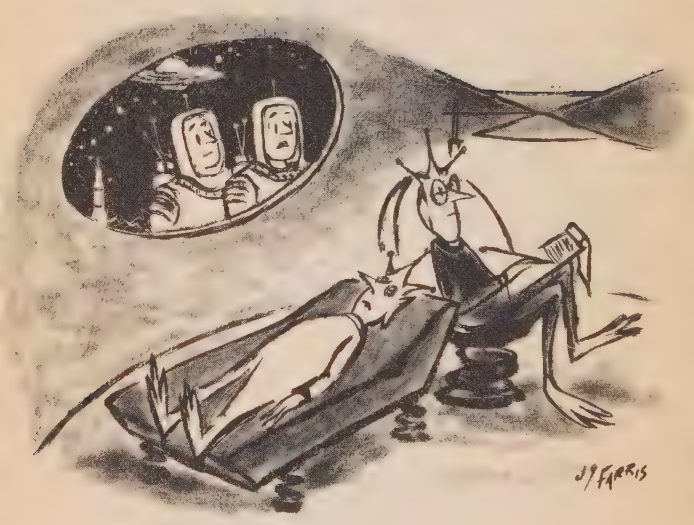


"I hope it isn't too late for earth."



"Wait till they get up in the morning and find it missing."

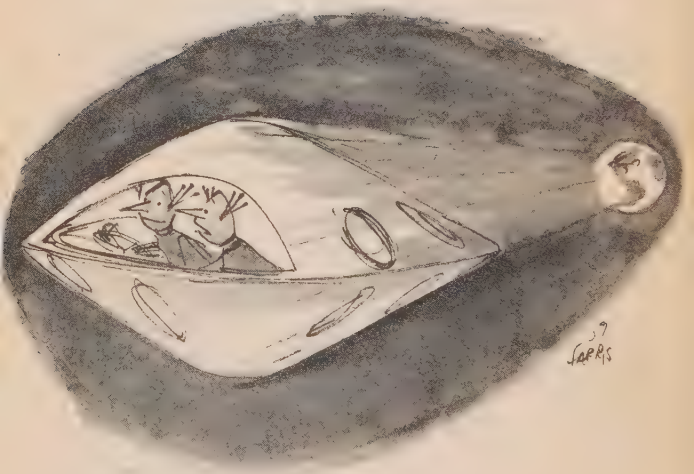
FARRIS



"Could it be that the whole universe is sick?"

Punch

"Would you be interested in a unique travel experience?"



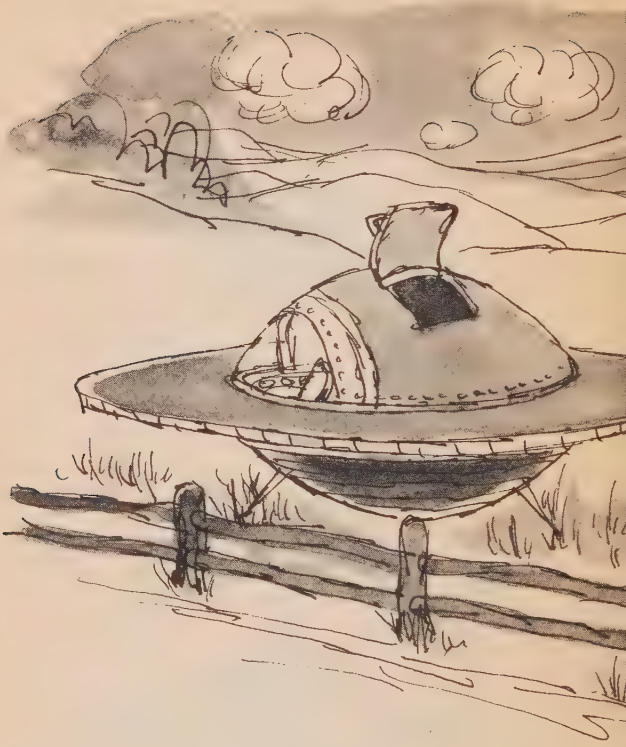
"Did you notice—all earthlings look alike."

Reprinted by permission from Science World,
© 1963 by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

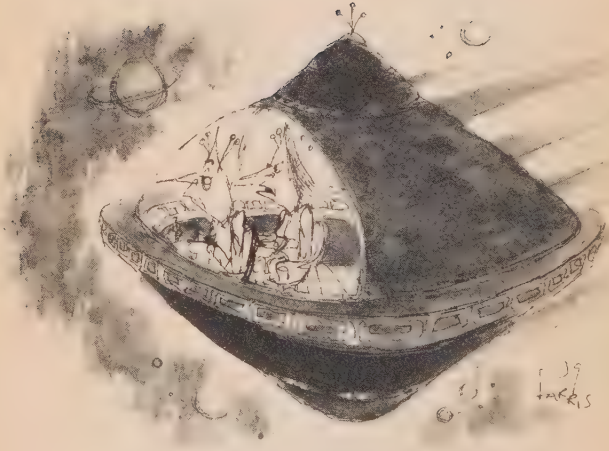
"What do you suppose they want with those useless gold stones?"

A-37
HARRIS

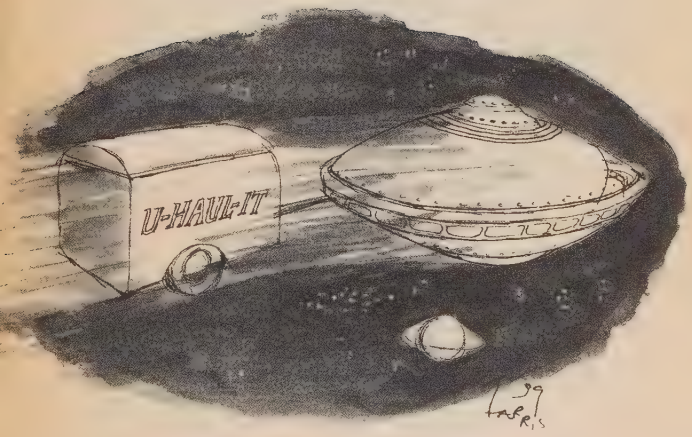
HELP!
FARRIS



TARKUS

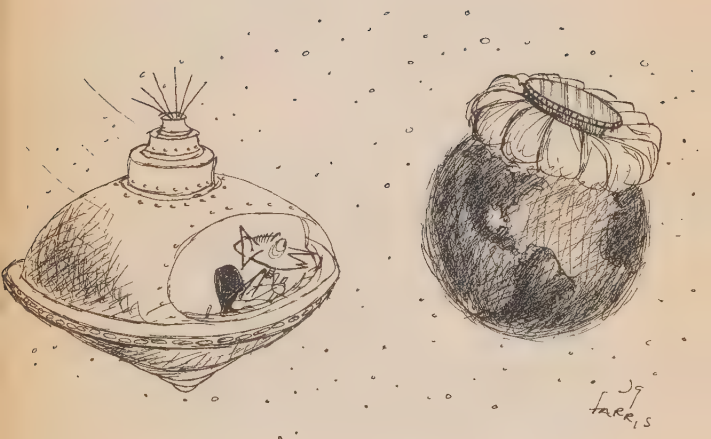


"Watch out for that asteroid—Careful there's another one of those sputniks—Look out—Slow down . . .'

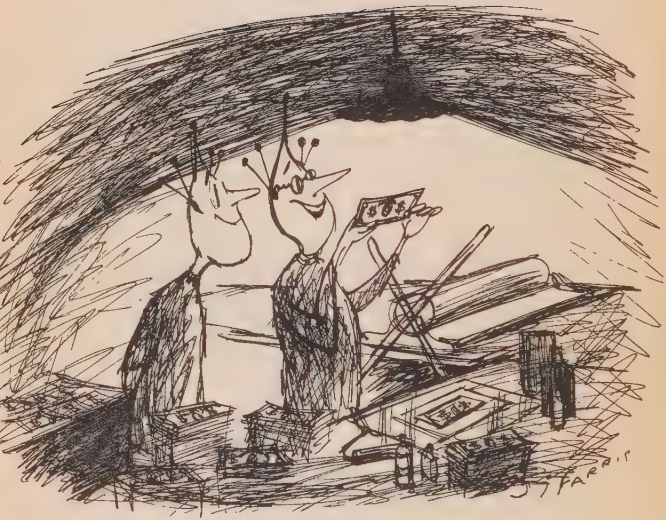


U-HAUL-IT

"They're cute. If they're harmless I'd like to bring one home as a pet."

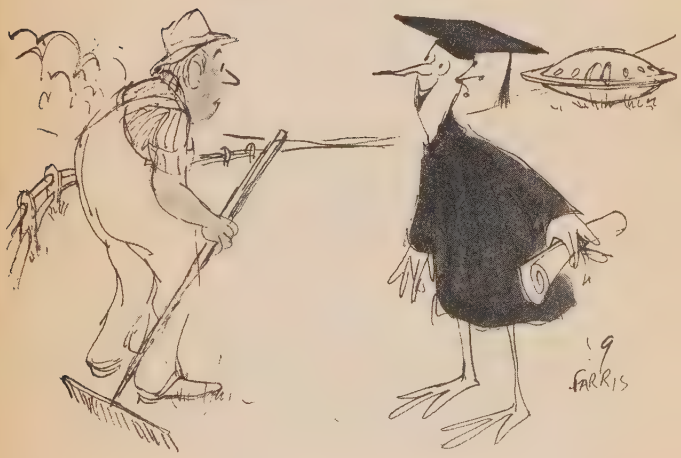


JG
FARRIS



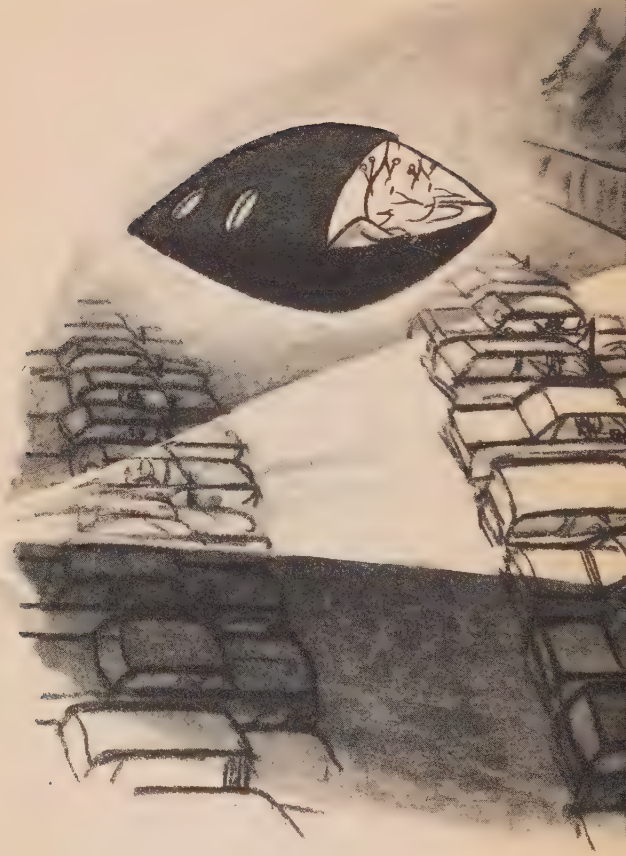
"America, here we come."

"Can you direct me to General Motors?"



"As you know, your late uncle was a firm believer in flying saucers . . ."

JG
HARRIS



"You're right. We have seen this one."

59
FARRIS

"We'll get right to the point, Senator—we're after foreign aid."

SAUCERS STRIKE BACK!!

Over 100 saucer's-eye views of the wild, wonderful world of UFOs—by celebrated cartoonist Joseph Farris. Many of the cartoons were created especially for this book, while others were selected from the pages of THE NEW YORKER, THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, LOOK, etc. Here is an in-orbit group of the farthest-out cartoons ever—for the saucer fan and non-believer alike.

FIRST TIME IN PAPERBACK

POPULAR LIBRARY